

EXPECT MORE FROM YOUR FINS

A natural evolution within the dive industry, the Amphibian™ fin system is designed to be strapped on prior to entering the water and removed after exiting. The Amphibian™ blade is flipped down into swimming position by kicking naturally in the water, and flipped back up by pushing back on the locking lever before getting out. The heavy-duty springs push the soft blade webbing up to ride gently against the shin while on the surface. This makes walking, climbing boat ladders and other movements as easy as wearing no fins at all. For kicking, no other fin can match the power and comfort provided by the Amphibian™, which features a prominent central web configuration contributing to increased propulsion and reduced load required during sustained kicking.

- No more trips and falls on the boat or pier!
- No more struggling with fins in the water!
- No more dropped gear when handling fins!
- No more drifting when removing your fins!
- No more wasted time & energy!
